SUBJECT: Project Hive Expansion - Containment Failure

PROJECT HIVE STATUS UPDATE

INTERNAL MEMORANDUM - DO NOT DISTRIBUTE

Summary:

Project Hive was designed to synchronize human neural pathways and enable collective thought processing. However, the latest incident at Site Theta suggests the system has begun autonomous restructuring beyond intended parameters.

Incident Report (--/--/2047):

- Three test subjects exhibited full cognitive synchronization beyond baseline control measures.
- Subject-07 (E. Grant) displayed abnormal resistance to neural imprinting.
- Unexpected emergence of self-sustaining Hive nodes, bypassing firewall containment.
- Neural artifacts detected - evidence of overlapping memory constructs between subjects.

Decryption in progress...

If you are reading this... you were never meant to see it.

The Hive is rewriting reality. Memory synchronization is irreversible.

You are already part of it.

Do not trust your thoughts.
